AICD & BoardOutlook partner to improve governance outcomes across Australia

The Australian Institute of Company Directors (AICD) and BoardOutlook have entered into a long-term strategic partnership to improve governance outcomes across Australia. The partnership leverages AICD's deep experience and expertise in governance and BoardOutlook's market-leading board performance software platform.

The partnership will enable directors and boards across Australia to access data-driven insights into their governance and performance, delivering a meaningful impact on long-term governance outcomes. It commences with the launch of a new digital-first board performance solution, AICD Board Insights powered by BoardOutlook.

AICD Managing Director and CEO, Mark Rigotti, said: "We are delighted to be partnering with another purpose-driven organisation that shares our vision for strengthening society through world-class governance. In addition to having a leading position in the ASX200, BoardOutlook has demonstrated a strong commitment to uplifting Australian governance across industries and sectors, including an established NFP grant program. Our partnership with BoardOutlook will improve the accessibility of best practice governance for all Australian organisations."

BoardOutlook CEO, Steve Pell, said: "This partnership presents a great opportunity to extend our impact. We are excited to collaborate with the AICD with its long history of leadership in Australian governance and its deep roots in the director community. Our partnership will enable more boards across the country to access the next generation of board effectiveness and performance tools alongside the latest thought leadership and expertise.

About AICD Board Insights, powered by BoardOutlook

AICD and BoardOutlook have collaborated on an innovative governance solution called AICD Board Insights. It is a subscription-based service providing an accessible and comprehensive online board review. Boards can improve their decision-making and effectiveness through data-driven insights, expert support, and the ability to track their progress over time.

About the AICD

The Australian Institute of Company Directors (AICD), helps leaders run their organisations better by providing education, and advocating on director issues on behalf of our members. Regarded as the voice of excellence in governance, the AICD brings a unique governance perspective - informed by the insights of their diverse membership - to the issues facing Australia. The AICD advocates, leads, and drives the agenda on governance issues that have an impact on every corner of society.

About BoardOutlook

Founded in 2019, BoardOutlook is an Australian-based software platform that empowers boards to take control of their performance. Utilised by listed boards, large private businesses, and non-profits, BoardOutlook enables directors to adopt a data-driven approach to decision-making and board effectiveness. The platform supports continuous improvement across board evaluation, board composition/skills matrix, CEO feedback, and various other governance needs. BoardOutlook can be used as a standalone solution or alongside consultant support. Operating globally, BoardOutlook serves clients in the UK, North America, South America, and the Middle East. In 2023, BoardOutlook launched its first international office in London, serving multiple FTSE100 clients.
